

HOW TO JOIN THE REVOLUTION

Starter Kit

Becoming an Independent Distributor for Revo Baby is easy and risk free. Like most other direct-selling programs, you will need to purchase a starter kit. But unlike some other companies, we don't require you to purchase any monthly minimums and best of all we will refund the cost of your samples within 60 days if you're not completely satisfied.

Your Starter kit costs $150 and includes; 10 brand new t-shirts (retail value of over $180), 100 full color customer order forms, 50 full color brochures, 25 distributor order forms, a helpful getting started guide and free shipping to your address.

For an additional $50 (optional), you can order your own personalized full color business card with your very own email address (yourname@revobaby.com). Your email address will be posted on our website with a link to you to help generate local traffic your way.

Compensation Package

Our compensation plan let's you decide how much money you want to make. It's very easy. Here's how it works: you gather your orders and collect the money from your customers, send us your orders with full payment at your wholesale cost and you keep the rest. We'll immediately ship out your t-shirts and you deliver them to your customers. It's that simple. You don't have to keep any inventory, only order what you sell and keep your profits right away.

Your cost per item will be our flat wholesale rate. The same as what our retail outlets pay. Your profits can range anywhere between 35% - 45% mark-up. We recommend you sell to your customers for no less than $15 and no more than $18 each. It is up to you how much money you want to make per t-shirt. The more you sell, the more you make. You get paid on performance and you keep your profits right away. You truly are your own boss and run your own business with this model. The difference is your investment is minimal and your risk none.

Earn an extra $30 bonus when you recruit someone. If a person you recommend purchases a starter kit and joins our team, we'll pay you $30.

Selling Options

- Sell direct to your family, friends, co-workers, neighbors, schoolmates and churchgoers. You take orders, fax/email your orders with payment, we ship to you, you distribute to your customers. No inventory to store. It's that simple.
- Sell at a kiosk, outdoor table, street-fair, trade-show or flea market in your town. This requires a bigger investment as you basically franchise the brand from us. You buy inventory at wholesale and mark it up as you see fit.
- Sell to baby stores and boutiques in your region. This structure allows you to become an independent sales rep for the brand. You sell the brand to buyers, they place orders with us, and we ship directly to them. You earn 10% commission on every order from your account for as long as you're still working with us.

How You Benefit

You set your own hours and schedule. Work at your own, flexible pace. You basically own and run your own business from home. It's an excellent way to make supplemental income or turn it into a career. It all depends on how serious you are about it and what your own personal goals are. Either way, you can make money with little financial investment and absolutely no risk at all. You never have to keep inventory on hand unless you want to. You only pay the wholesale price for what you order and keep the profits for yourself. And best of all, we are here to lend you support and guide you on the necessary steps to run your very own successful direct-selling business.

How Your Customers Benefit

They save money. That's the bottom line. Instead of paying over $20 by purchasing retail off our website or buying from a boutique, when they purchase directly from you, they save money. Their savings can range from $4 - $7 per item. That's 15% - 35% off retail. They also trust you and know you're going to sell them something unique and of best quality. Your customers will love shopping from you because they know they're being rewarded not only with a great product at a discounted price, but with the satisfaction of knowing their purchase will help you achieve your financial goals.
